

My Favorite Forest Animal Crossword

See if you can find the words in this crossword puzzle.
Look for animals that you might find in the forests of Wisconsin.

Across

- This animal can jump gracefully from tree to tree collecting acorns to cache (store) for the long winter
- This animal has a white tail and eats buds off of trees.
- Our state bird and one of the first we look for during springtime.
- This animal says, gobble, gobble, gobble.
- You might find this warty skinned animal hopping along the forest floor
- A home for animals with space, shelter and food.
- This animal could be mistaken for a coyote, but has longer legs. It enjoys a good howl at the moon and hunts in packs.
- A nocturnal (awake at night) animal that catches mice during the night.
- This animal is Wisconsin's state fish and a member of the pike family. It's usually known as the "fish that got away" because they're so hard to catch.

Down

- If you like honey, you'll love this animal that makes it.
- This animal uses its long curly tongue to sip nectar from flowers
- This can be a smelly Wisconsin forest creature when defending itself.
- You might see this gray animal in your back yard nibbling on grass. It has ears that stand straight up and shift like a satellite dish to catch sounds from all directions.
- You'll find this type of fish swimming in a forest stream. Their common name might include rainbow, brown, and brook.
- A system of living and non-living organisms that interact with each other.
- This omnivore (eats meat and veggies) scratches its back with the trunk of a tree, is an excellent climber, and loves bee larvae and honey.
- This sneaky little animal can be very temperamental especially when hunting for prey twice its size.
- This Wisconsin animal has excellent eyesight and soars above their prey before swooping down to catch them.

